Problem Statement

Build an AI-powered solution that solves a real-world problem in E-Commerce, Automotive DMS, or Enterprise CRM by improving the software development lifecycle.

Forward College x GCR

Problem Statement

Software development teams work across multiple stages of the Software Development Life Cycle (SDLC), from project setup and requirements gathering to coding, testing, debugging, deployment, and maintenance. These processes can be time-consuming and prone to errors, making it challenging for developers to deliver high-quality software efficiently.

While AI tools can already assist with coding and other development tasks, there is still untapped potential to use AI more effectively throughout the SDLC to reduce development time, automate repetitive work, detect bugs earlier, and build more reliable software.

Your challenge is to explore how AI can improve one or more stages of the Software Development Life Cycle (SDLC), using a real-world scenario from E-Commerce, Automotive Dealer Management Systems (DMS), or Enterprise Customer Relationship Management (CRM). Develop a working prototype that demonstrates how your solution can address a meaningful problem and improve the way software is built.
